

Here is a list of items to bring to camp. Remember anything that comes to camp looking new will not look that way when you get back home.

Chest Waders- these are a must it usually gets too cold to wet wade at night.

Polarized sunglasses- for fishing and for safety

Raincoat- a thunderstorm will immediately get us out of the water, rain will not.

Poly-fleece shirt or jacket- it will get you warm even if you're soaked

Brimmed hat or baseball cap

Sunscreen

Mosquito repellent

Clothing for 5 days

T-shirts

Pants or jeans

Shorts

Extra socks

Hiking boots or old gym shoes

Extra underwear

A couple long sleeve shirts- it can get cold and buggy at night

Optional

Dry bag or backpack for extra clothes

Fishing rod and supplies- we will supply everything you will need for fishing on the river, but if you have a favorite rod bring it along.

Waterproof Camera- I can almost guarantee it's going to get wet.

Remember we will be spending most of our time outside and active. Things that come to camp tend to get dirty, wet and broken.
